Product Description:

The OX-ON Garden Supreme 5602 is the garden glove for anyone seeking extra protection for the hand and forearm—for example, when cutting roses and bushes. The glove is made of synthetic leather and gives extra protection on the palm, fingers and between thumbs and index fingers that are reinforced with PVC. The back of the hand is made of polyester for a high degree of flexibility during gardening. The Garden Supreme 5602 also features an 18 cm long cuff in synthetic leather to protect the forearm when dealing with thorns and twigs. Features a Velcro-closure at the cuff for adjustment and convenience. Provides the ultimate protection when working in the garden, with sublime quality in both material selection and design.
