Product Description:

OX-ON Flexible Basic 1006 is a completely comfortable, affordable and flexible transition glove for you working as a carpenter, in construction, in stock or in the garden. Whether you need to use the flexible glove professionally or privately, you get a lightweight all-round glove that performs well in a cool environment. The palm and fingers are coated with latex foam which gives you an extremely soft and supple feel. The knit is made of cotton and elastane, which makes the glove elastic and keeps the hands warm. The Flexible Basic 1006 glove has good comfort, ergonomic fit and perfect finger feel. Flexible Basic 1006 is the all-round and transitional glove for you who would like to have many nice features at an attractive price.
