Product Description:

The OX-ON Worker Comfort 2306 is a highly comfortable and protective glove, e.g. for working with CO2 welding or heavier industrial work. If you are looking for a good barbecue glove, this model is also worth considering.

Split leather on the back of the hand and palm makes the glove resistant to sparks and heat. Tested and approved for contact heat up to 250 degrees. Worker Comfort 2306 is lined with cotton, which makes it comfortable to wear for long periods.

Therefore provides excellent protection for the hand and forearm while ensuring a great fit.

Worker Comfort 2306 is great value for money and a durable glove that gives extra protection.
