Product Description:

OX-ON Bandage Cohesive Comfort is a self-adhesive elastic support bandage, ideal for securing dressings. This bandage is particularly suitable for use around joints and larger areas such as the abdomen. It can also be used as light first aid support for overstrained muscles, tendons, and ligaments. The bandage is designed to ensure a tight and secure fit without the need for additional tape or clips. This bandage provides an excellent combination of flexibility and support, making it perfect for both daily use and emergency first aid. It is comfortable to wear and adapts to body movements, making it ideal for active individuals. The high elasticity ensures that the bandage can be adjusted to different parts of the body, providing optimal support and comfort. Contents of the set: 1 pc 4.5 m x 10 cm.
